Two Oxford County War Papers.

We have two copies of the Oxford Democrat printed in 1894, one in June, one in September. They are the property of the late Robert Noyes. The head of the paper is in the style of the then was the same style of letter as the enlarged form of the sign on the building at Paris Hill, so familiar to all who have visited Paris Hill. At that time, Wm. A. Pidgeon & Co. were proprietors, and John J. Perry editor. It was a six column, four page paper.

There was no local news in the paper, but it was made up of politics, war and general news, literary matters and advertising. It had a large advertising patronage from all over Oxford County, especially legal advertising. We notice among the local advertisers Dr. A. Thompson (a successful lumber man who owns a fine cottage on Rock Island, Lake Umbagog and spends the summer there), Wm. Wirt Virgin was then of Norway, J. G. Rich, the well-known hunter, trapper and guide of Upton had a card. N. T. True, the Bethel teacher, was advertising the insurance. Geo. W. Millett was the printer in Norway. B. P. Snow was the principal of Gould's academy. Thomas Witt was in the insurance business at Norway and H. H. Ricker, South Paris.

Webster Woodbury was the principal at the Oxford Normal Institute at South Paris. Miss F. A. Woodbury, assistant, and Louise S. Holmes, teacher of music. The Portland and Oxford Central Railroad was evidently in operation from Sumner to Dixfield. Foreign advertising, especially patent medicines, had a large place.

Those were in the dark days of the civil war and about a column in each issue gave the latest news. In the first, it told of the fall of Petersburg and in the other dispatches from Gen. Grant and Sherman tell of their fighting.

The Union nomination, for President Abraham Lincoln and Vice-President Andrew Johnson were published. The Oxford County Union Convention was called by Wm. W. Bolster, Jonas Greene, James W. Clark, Oren Foster, Josiah S. Hobbs, Enoch W. Woodbury and T. F. Cleaves; the Congressional Convention, second district, by C. O. Fowey, Asa Jones, Jr., John E. Hubbard, J. C. Marble, S. P. Morrill. Among those who called the Union State Convention we notice James G. Blaine, Noah Prince, Nelson Dingley, Jr., Eugene Hale.

The nomination for Congress in the 2d district was Sidney Perham; for Governor, Samuel Cony. The County ticket: for senators, William Wirt Virgin of Norway and Thomas Chase of Buckfield; for sheriff, Horatio Austin of Canton; for attorney, William W. Bolster of Dixfield; for register, John E. Hubbard, Josiah S. Hobbs of Paris; for commissioner, Noah B. Hubbard of Hiram; for treasurer, William A. Pidgeon of Paris.

The speakers at the Union political meetings were Col. E. T. Luce, Hon. E. W. Woodbury, Col. W. W. Virgin and Hon. Sidney Perham. At a mass meeting at South Paris, Hon. Hannibal Hamlin and Hon. John A. Peters were to speak.

The Democrat was a political power in the land and its utterances were given with authority and no uncertain sound. When it speaks of Jeff Davis there is little doubt that it meant just that man; and when it says: "As Maine goes, so goes the Union," that it had on its shoulders a great share in this responsibility.

The negro race problem was at that time a troublesome factor, and is about the only question that has not been settled during the thirty-seven years since those papers were published.

The Home Gold Cure.

An Ingenious Treatment by which Drunkards are Being Cured Daily in Spite of Themselves.

No Noxious Doses. No Weakening of the Nerves. A Pleasant and Positive Cure for the Liquor Habit.

It is now generally known and understood that Drunkenness is a disease and not weakness. A body filled with poison, and nerves completely shattered by periodical or constant use of intoxicating liquors, requires an antidote capable of neutralizing and eradicating this poison, and destroying the craving for intoxicants. Sufferers may now cure themselves at home without publicity or loss of time from business by this wonderful "HOME GOLD CURE" which has been perfected after many years of close study and treatment of inebriates. The faithful use according to directions of this wonderful discovery is positively guaranteed to cure the most obstinate case, no matter how hard a drinker. Our records show the marvelous transformation of thousands of drunkards into sober, industrious and upright men.

WIVES CURE YOUR HUSBANDS!! CHILDREN CURE YOUR FATHERS!!

This remedy is in no sense a nostrum but is a specific for this disease only, and is so skillfully devised and prepared that it is thoroughly soluble and pleasant to the taste, so that it can be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it. Thousands of Drunkards have cured themselves with this priceless remedy, and as many more have been cured and made temperate men by having the "CURE" administered by loving friends and relatives without their knowledge in coffee or tea, and believe to-day that they are drinking of their own free will. DO NOT WAIT. Do not be deluded by apparent and misleading "improvement." Drive out the disease once and for all time. The "HOME GOLD CURE" is sold at the extremely low price of One Dollar, thus placing within reach of everybody a treatment more effectual than others costing $25 to $50. Full directions accompany each package. Special advice by skilled physicians when requested without extra charge. Sent prepaid to any part of the world on receipt of One Dollar. Address Dept. A500, EDWIN B. GILES & COMPANY, 2330 and 2332 Market Street, Philadelphia.

All correspondence strictly confidential. 12tf

The author of "The Woman and Her Bonds," Mr. Edwin Lefevre, contributes another Wall Street story to the June McClure's Magazine. Its rather explosive title, "Pike's Peak or Bust," is only characteristic of the thrilling financial tragedy it describes. The story fairly seethes with the wild rush and bustle of the Stock Exchange.

Other Distinguished Oxford Bears

Owatonna, Minn., May 9, 1901.

EDITOR ADVERTISER.—In one of my letters I named the distinguished men who had their birth in Oxford County. I confessed that I was not a native of Oxford, but I was born in Fryeburg and remind me of some omissions.

Judah Dana, a native of Fryeburg, was a Judge of the Supreme Court of Maine and also a United States Senator. His son, John W., was both Governor of Maine and Minister to Bolivia. Royal B. Bradford, a native of Turner became a Rear Admiral in the United States Navy. And again that grand old Roman general, Samuel Fessenden, was born in Fryeburg. He was the father of that preeminent great man, Wm. Pitt Fessenden, who, if not born in F., lived there and can be called a son of Oxford County.

M. H. DUNNELL.

MOTHER AND CHILD.

Let the mother take Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil for the two; it is almost never superfluous.

One can eat for two; but nourishing two is a different thing; it implies a degree of interior strength not often found in woman of interior extreme.

Luxurious people are not very strong by habit, and overworked people are weak from exhaustion in some of their functions. Between the two is the happy mean; but how many women have plenty of life for two?

The emulsion is almost never superfluous.

Rabbitry and Henrery.

On the road to West Sumner is the farm of P. A. Crawford, situated at North Paris. Mr. Crawford raises and sells Belgian hares, sending them even to Oregon and to all points in the United States. They increase very rapidly, the female producing a litter about every 30 days, so that the owner can tell almost exactly when another litter is due. On a litter of only thirteen was born one day last week, and last month the same mother produced eight, and as they are sold at $1 per head as soon as they are old enough to take off, we think them a profitable investment. We think them a profitable investment. We think them a profitable investment. We think them a profitable investment.

Mr. Crawford that he bought the first ones at the World's Fair. He is also engaged in raising game birds, more especially for the "pigeon" and also a great many of them to different parts of the country, among them English B. B. Roofs, Heathwoods, Alger-Claybournes, War Horses, Black and Tans, Georgia Shawnees and Genuine Red Quills, and he has some very fine stock which commands fancy prices both in birds and eggs.

Building 150x16 feet and two stories in height for a rabbitry and henrery and go into the business more extensively.

A New Hampshire city has passed an anti-spitting ordinance. It reads:—"All persons are forbidden to spit upon the floors, steps or platforms of any public conveyance, or public building, or upon the sidewalks of any street or way in said city. Any person found guilty of violating this ordinance will be fined not exceeding $10 or be imprisoned not exceeding thirty days."

If this money could be collected and this order of things was in force in Oxford county our debts might be speedily cancelled.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Two workmen in Porter pit were nearly killed by the bank caving on them. One was buried about three feet and fell into the dipper on the steam shovel. It was thought that he was dead when they got him out, but he afterwards regained consciousness, but it is thought he was injured internally. The other one was buried above the hips and not seriously hurt.

Jack Morris hired a team of Fred Russell of Andover to come to Rumford Falls, agreeing to return, the next Monday. A. P. Lewis of Fryeburg, the next Monday, he hired a horse of E. C. Gorkum of Riddellville and taking Russell's wagon started for Norridgewock, leaving Mr. Russell's horse at Mr. Corkum's stable. He agreed to be back, but he did not come, and sheriff Porter called up the Norridgewock officers, had Morris arrested and went after him, the next morning.

There was a hearing, Tuesday, on the liquor seized on the premises of Timothy Stowe and Elmer H. Ingalls of Newry, before trial justice Albert Bennett of Gilead. Stowe did not appear. Ingalls claimed the liquor, which was condemned in both cases. County Attorney E. C. Park of Bethel appeared in the interests of the State and Dennis Meagher, esq., of Portland for Ingalls. An appeal was taken by Ingalls to the October term of the S. J. court at Paris. After the closing of the hearing on the liquor, Ingalls was arrested upon a warrant under the section of the statute providing that complaint may be made against a claimant for seized liquors. The new warrant alleged that the liquors were kept for illegal sale. On this warrant, Ingalls waived examination and gave bonds for appearance at the October court.

A sow, belonging to Mr. Littlefield, had a litter of pigs, 14 in number, a few days ago. At last accounts there were 12 living.
John McAllister, a teamster, met with quite a serious accident a few days since. He was working on the road with the road machine and was knocked over by one of his horses and knocked prostrate and unconscious. He was rescued by a fellow workman, who was with him, from being crushed to death under the wheels of the machine. At first it was thought that he was dead. He was taken home as soon as possible and the doctor was called. The extent of his injuries could not be fully determined at first as he did not regain consciousness for several hours. One of his teeth was loosened and a wound under the lower jaw showed and where the toe calk had struck, it must have been a fearful blow and the wonder is that he was not instantly killed. A beautiful collation was served, and the bridal wreath from Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Lovering of West Medford, Mass., was duly admired. A poem by Rev. J. A. Libby was appreciated. O. Low long.

Those Fifty Years.
Fifty fast years, how they have sped away. Since you clasped hands upon your marriage day.
A backward glance through these would only seem Like the awakening from a changeless dream;
But when you stop to ponder life-time o'er,
How soon the measure of your time moves slower.
Those earlier days, when strength was in your hands,
The hours of toil were long for love's demands;
And yet what happiness did overflow
Your cups of joy to see the children grow.
How beautiful they were, with voices glad,
You had but little then to make you sad,
But other years came on, and O how long
The days and nights, when those so young and strong
Grew weary with disease, then on a day
You bore the jewels from your home away.
And O, how lonesome since, from dawn till noon,
Have passed the hours with your dear ones gone.
But let me not write all my words with gloom,
A light comes streaming from a broken tomb.
Our Jesus rose to immortality,
And shouted back to us, "I have the key!"
He will unlock and bring our dear ones home,
And you may find the very ones you lost
Restored to you with the sad graveyard crossed.
Take heart at this and say: "A little while,
And we shall have them back with smiles for smile."
Where life is endless, death can never come
To snatch the dear ones from the new earth home.
My brother and my sister, few can say:
"We celebrate our fiftieth wedding day."
And true and loving friends are many here
To fill the home with pleasant words of cheer.
You may be happy as life's sun goes low,
Under the brilliant, lingering after-glow.
And with your words of counsel many bless,
Finding sweet children still for your career.
Then, when for you life's latest days shall come,
Lift up your eyes and look away towards home;
The sleep of death is nothing in the way.
A little night and then the eternal day.
God bless you both along these waiting years,
And give you joy at last for all your tears.

MOTHERS' MEETING.
Regular fortnightly mothers' meeting was held in Grange hall, Norway, May 8, at 2 p. m. - Notwithstanding the unavoidable absence of Rev. C. E. Angell, who was to speak to the mothers, a very enjoyable program was carried out.
Mrs. George Cummings read a paper, entitled "Conversation in the Home Circle," written by Mrs. J. Harry Holden of Attleboro, Mass., for the Attleboro W. C. T. U. Mothers' Club.
Some of the main thoughts of the paper are as follows: Home does not mean an elegant house. Home in its real sense, is the best place on earth, the place where we can carry all our joys and sorrows, and be sure of kind sympathy. "This is the home that we have passed those early years of childhood when the mind and heart receive impressions so easily, when one is so teachable, so willing to learn, so quick to yield to a guiding hand, when the first years of childhood our whole lives are largely moulded. The impressions received then are not easily removed. It has been said that a child learns more during the first five years of life than in any other corresponding period of time. How carefully then what is said in the home should be guarded, especially where there are children! Conversation is not gossip. It is not the salutations of the day; it is not comments on the weather; it is not a tale of hats and gowns; nor is it a query as to our neighbors' affairs.
The elements of conversation are something to say, brightly and quickly said, and the ability to listen well. Each member of the home circle must bring some thought for the pleasure and benefit of all. The father with his broader field of observation and clearer insight into human nature can bring forth from his busy day some bright treasure of thought. The mother in the intensity and warmth of her love must purify and refine. What power! What responsibility! rest upon the mother, the home maker. Amid all the cares and responsibilities of ordering a household, she must bring, not complaints, but brightness and cheeriness to the conversation, now as talker, now as listener, remembering always that brightness, ready response, cheery tone, and pleasant manner are essential for the good conversationalist.
Mrs. Edwin Cummings read an interesting story, entitled "The Art of Being Lovely at Home."
In the discussion of the topic of the afternoon the following thoughts were brought out: At table children (as well as adults) should never complain of the food, but should always speak of cheerful subjects. "Laughter is a good sauce for the appetite."
"The better to look on the jolly, bright side of life than to be cynical and morose. We should try to speak pure, grammatical English, as well as pure thoughts."
The next meeting will be May 22, 2 p. m., at Grange hall.
Barbara will talk on "Obedience and Right and Wrong Punishment." All women are cordially invited to be present.

Did You Ever Hear of a U. S. Separator That Was Not Doing Good Work and Giving Good Satisfaction?
If there is one in the towns of Waterford, Norway, Albany, Stoneham or Bridgton that is not running easy and smooth and doing the best of work, I would like to know it. I am agent for them, as well as other implements manufactured by the Vermont Farm Machine Co., for those towns, and feel a personal interest in them, whether bought of me or not. The Separator becomes more of a necessity for all dairymen, whether great or small, after being adopted by a few, and the most successful and up-to-date dairymen see and appreciate this, and are either using one or are investigating and figuring on their advantages over other methods of raising cream.
The U. S. Separator is adapted to any size of dairy; is made in six sizes of hand-power machines, with prices from $50 to $150.
Send for descriptive catalogue and price list. I keep on hand a special oil for separators, steel bearing springs, rubber bowl rings, steel balls for spindle bearing, and brushes, and can get at short notice any other repairs which may be needed.
An also agent for Lister's and Cleveland separators for which you should get your orders by mail.
Plenty of buttermilk at Waterford creamery now, at one-half cent per gallon.

Written for the Advertiser.
A Riddle.
A riddle I give to the wise ones to solve—
What is it?
"It is whispered in Heaven," 'tis muttered in Hell,
And Echo caught faintly the sound as it fell,
On the confines of Earth 'tis permitted to rest,
And the depths of the ocean its presence confessed.
'Twill be found in the Sphere when it's riven asunder,
'Tis seen in the Lightning and heard in the Thunder.
'Twas allotted to man at his earliest Breath,
It assists at his Birth and attends at his death,
Presides o'er his Happiness, Honor and Health,
Is the sign of his House and the end of his Wealth."

Letter to W. F. Jones.
Norway, Me.
Dear Sir: You know a good paint when you see it. Devote lead and zinc is the paint that costs half as much as lead and oil because it wears twice as long. But it looks no better, when first put on.

You must wait a little to see the difference. The first summer takes off the gloss of lead and oil; the second summer it chinks; the third, it wants repainting. It probably spots in a month or six weeks; the gloss goes off in spots or in sections.

Devote lead and zinc even holds its gloss longer than lead and oil years. The loss of gloss marks the beginning of wear, but it keeps out water ten years, in favorable conditions.

Painters think three years is enough. It is, for lead and oil.

Truly,
F. W. DEVORE & CO.
P. S.—F. P. Stone sells our paint in your section.

The Pan-American Exposition.

Visit to J. Wesley Swan's at Montreal.
Toronto.—Arrived at Buffalo, April 29—
Niagara.—Trust Poles.

Saturday afternoon, I visited the Gazette office and found them printing Ayer's 1902 Almanac in French. They went into the Star office and watched the big presses handle sixteen pages of eight-column newspaper at once.

Then I paid my promised visit to the studio of J. Wesley Swan on Mansfield street, next to corner of St. Catherine's street, which is the finest in the city, being the English retail section. It seemed more like home. I didn't feel so much like being in a foreign land as when spending the forenoon among the Frenchmen. Mr. Swan has a sumptuous studio and the throngs that came on business indicated that he is doing a good amount of work. Took supper with them in their cosy home. The children are growing; a few months has almost taken them out of recollection. Lena, the older, bids fair to become an excellent pianist. The family clings to New England ways and have baked beans for Saturday supper.

Night ride to Toronto. Sunday in the city. It is regularly laid out and is handsome and comfortable looking. Not so many signs as in Montreal but the people evidently live better. This is a good place to hear broad Scotch spoken.

The sights are the Lake shipping and the Ontario Parliament House. The government lodges and feeds its legislators; the premier and his cabinet, besides furnishing rooms for legislation, libraries, museum, various government under one roof. The Lieutenant Governor, who is appointed from the Dominion government at Ottawa, is expected to put on lots of frills. Government is spectacular and expensive here.

The parliament house is in the midst of a hill. Around the park are the buildings of four colleges and a conservatory of music.

The army, city hall and cathedral of the church of England are the three other buildings which should not be missed in this city of 250,000 people.

Sunday afternoon, I went to a Salvation Army bazaar exhibition. They had evidently scoured the city for poor children to give a good time and religious instruction.

"How pleasant is Saturday night, when we've tried all the week to be good." But the pleasantness of Saturday night isn't much relief to the man who is weary with sightseeing and tramping about.

I've got about enough of Buffalo and the exposition, already, for I've made the business of it and managed to see both pretty thoroughly.

Left Toronto, Monday morning, and had a forenoon ride to Suspension Bridge Station on the New York side of Niagara river. The view of Niagara Falls from the G. T. Ry. new bridge is disappointing. A distance of two miles and a couple of bridges above spoil the looks of the Falls.

I walked around and saw both the town and the running water. The town inhabitants regard the rest of the world as their natural enemy. They regard themselves as a sort of trust or conglomeration with exclusive control of the great sight and they charge trust prices for everything besides having the nerve to run an unlimited number of schemes for "working" the stranger within their gates.

I saw a shoe-black working on the leathers of a courtly Kentucky gentleman and brother Mason with whom I scraped acquaintance. The shine finisher's clothes. My friend from the land of good whiskey and fine horses gave him a nickel, and was promptly asked for "Ten cents more, boss."

"Why, how is that?"
"Ten cents for de shine 'n' fi cents for de clo'es brushin'!"

The gentleman submitted to the extortion and I postponed my shine till I got to Buffalo.

One man has a great sign up by the edge of the gorge announcing that he has a wonderful hole for mankind to go down and see. The sign reads from a distance 5 cents. You go down and you find that the hole isn't worth looking at any way. You could dig a better one before breakfast, 'most any sunny morning. Come up and you are asked 50 cents for the privilege of going out and running across some other swindle. Your protest will be answered by a re-examination reveals an almost microscopic hole after the giant 5.

I was forewarned and saved my silver. These are only ordinary instances. The cabbies will beat the wayfarer man unless he makes his contract before he starts and then refuses to pay them till the last inch of the ride has been taken. One must take good care of himself at Niagara. Don't even step on a bridge without first learning the cost. Also for economy, Niagara's juveniles should be bought at Toronto or Buffalo.

The falls are fully up to recommendations. What adds to their impressiveness is the loneliness of the sight. There isn't any other scenery about there. All flat land. The gorge was disappointing to me. Except in length, it is inferior as scenery to that of the St. John river below Grand Falls in the Province of New Brunswick.

For the ride to Buffalo, I changed to the Lehigh Valley Ry. The trees along the way have no limbs on the northwest sides, and the reason given is the fierce winds from that direction. Visited the Exposition Press Department and got my pass to the grounds. It was from Mr. Bolles who asked me to describe Frank Noyes. When I had done that he made out the pass, and said he reckoned I was all right. Says he met Frank Noyes at Ashtabula, about nine years ago.

Buffalo is more irregularly arranged than Boston, and there is no need of it. The way to find a place is to jump on the next street car that comes along and tell the conductor where you want to go. If you happen to get on the wrong car it costs nothing to be put off, and told what car to take. If on the right one, their system of free transfers and gentlemanly giving of information by the conductors will land you at the correct spot.

Unfolds Its Plans.

Important Improvements In Its Passenger Train Service, Decided upon by the Grand Trunk.

The plans of the Grand Trunk which have been carefully maturing during the past few months, and which the management believe will greatly benefit Canadian cities and summer resorts, as well as materially augment the earnings of its passenger department through the enormous travel which will move to and from the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo, have been so far perfected as to permit public announcement of some of the most interesting features.

Niagara Falls always possesses wonderful charms for travelers from all over the globe, but when to this sublime creation of nature are added the marvels of the New Century, that will be presented at the great Exposition at Buffalo, produced by the intelligence, ingenuity and energy of man, and the expenditure of millions of dollars, all within an hour's ride of the great cataraict, it can be readily appreciated why Niagara Falls and Buffalo are this summer to be brought closer by hours to the people of Montreal and Eastern Canada, and made accessible to the widely separated and populous centers located along the Grand Trunk's thousands of miles of track. These changes also affect Toronto, Hamilton, London and Western Ontario generally, also Detroit and other cities in the State of Michigan, and Chicago.

THE "INTERNATIONAL LIMITED," of which the Management feel justly proud and claim has raised Canadian passenger train service to a position not excelled anywhere in America, is to be divided at Toronto into two sections, one to run solid into Buffalo by way of Niagara Falls, and the other to run as at present, through London and Detroit to Chicago. Passengers will leave Montreal at 9 a. m., and reach Buffalo, 450 miles away, in less than eleven hours. Of course such speed by so long a distance is only possible by stopping at none but principal stations, and as meals will be served on board at any hour desired, detention for refreshments on route will be avoided.

TO BE DUPLICATED AT BUFFALO. It is not possible now to breakfast in Buffalo or Niagara Falls, and dine the same day at Montreal or at a convenient hour on the train just before arriving at Montreal; but after June 1st, this will be done without any difficulty. A fast train, also to be known as "International Limited," and a counterpart of the western bound flyer will leave Buffalo daily at 8 a. m., and reach Montreal at 9 a. m., Toronto, 11.30 a. m., and reach Montreal at 1.30 p. m. It is thought this superior service extending for miles along the north shore of Lake Ontario and River St. Lawrence, will attract many thousands from Maine, Massachusetts and other New England States, either on their way to or from Buffalo, who will prefer the cool and refreshing breezes and delightful scenery of the northern route with the privilege of visiting Toronto, Montreal, or other places of interest, rather than the slightly more direct routes to the south.

NIGHT SERVICE BETWEEN MONTREAL AND BUFFALO. Another great innovation will be the establishment of a fast solid night service in each direction between Montreal and Buffalo via Niagara Falls, making the run in about twelve hours. Wide vestibuled coaches illuminated by the latest system of electric lighting will be used in this service, as well as several other important centers under arrangements recently entered into by the management.

"HIGHLANDS OF ONTARIO." The thousands of visitors from the United States to Muskoka and the Georgian Bay resorts, north of Toronto, will be greatly surprised by the service they are to have from and to Buffalo. The "International Limited" trains being used both ways between Buffalo and Toronto, combined with the fast express between Toronto and the North, popularly known as the "Highlands of Ontario."

TORONTO, HAMILTON AND BUFFALO. The "Rainbow City," (the name appropriately selected for the Pan-American Exposition) with its 350 acres covered by magnificent and beautifully colored structures, is to have easy communication with the leading western Canadian cities of Toronto and Hamilton, two additional daily fast trains being added.

Among the appointments by Alfred S. Kimball, Grand Master of Freemasons of Maine, are:
District Deputy, 18th district—Don A. Gates, Dixfield.
District Deputy, 18th district—Tobias L. Eastman, Fryburg.
Grand Chaplain—Rev. William E. Brooks, D. South Paris.
Grand Marshal—Bial F. Bradbury, Norway.

A minor of George H. Davis, South Paris, has received a pension of $2.

CHICAGO AND NEW YORK THROUGH CANADA.
The international character of the traffic catered to by the Grand Trunk and which has earned for it the title of "The Great International Route," is further illustrated by the addition of its service through Canada of a new fast train between Chicago, Buffalo and New York, connecting at Chicago with the Limited trains of all leading western railways.

MICHIGAN AND BUFFALO.
Two additional fast trains will be run between Detroit and other Michigan points and Buffalo, which, with a re-arrangement of other trains, will also add greatly to the convenience of Canadian visitors to the Exposition from London, Chatham and Windsor.

MICHIGAN, WESTERN ONTARIO AND MONTREAL VIA TORONTO.
The fastest night service ever inaugurated will be given between Michigan and Montreal. Last year the time between Detroit and Montreal was clipped by about two hours, but this summer another hour will be saved, the run from Detroit to Montreal being made in about fifteen hours.

Passengers from London will be able to leave after supper (about 7.15 p. m.) and get an early breakfast in Montreal next morning, a condition never before attempted.

BRANTFORD AND BUFFALO.
The small but progressive city of Brantford is to be connected with Buffalo by a fast morning train over the new International Bridge across the Niagara River at Buffalo. This train will return from Buffalo at an hour that will permit of a view of the grand nightly illumination of the Exposition.

The foregoing are the main new features of the summer service, but other changes of importance to the traveling public will be disclosed when the time tables now in hand are published.

All Doctors have tried to cure

CATARRH by the use of powders, acid

Their powders dry up the mucous

the same membranes that their makers have aimed to cure, while pastes and ointments cannot reach the disease. An
